

NEW APARTMENT HOUSE

apartments are of seven rooms each, two rooms being semi-basement, to be equipped for a doctor at the north wing, and a dentist, or other professional man on the south. The physician's apartment has already been leased and the two rooms for his use will be equipped for permanent occupancy of a physician, the arrangement being planned by a doctor of the Boston City Hospital. The upper floor on either wing will contain five rooms, and one of these has also been leased.

There will be twelve four-room apartments, four in the center of the North and South wings and four in the center of the back, or East wing. In each of the back corners are two apartments of three rooms each, two up and two down. Plazas are available for certain apartments, as shown in the illustration.

There are ten entrances in all, and each apartment shares a rear entrance. Each kitchen will be equipped by the owners, not only with refrigerating arrangements, but gas stoves vented into chimneys, drop table, built-in ironing board and white enameled sink trays. In the basement will be individual laundry trays.

At each entrance hall door will be telephone arrangement and letter box conforming to the most recent standards and in accordance with the Government's suggestions for modern handling of household mail. All floors will be of oak and in certain apartments there will be fire-places of specially selected tapestry brick. As a rule the apartments are larger than those now being built in most Boston apartment houses, no room, except bath-rooms, being less than 14x13. There are also built-in book-cases and closets in every chamber.

Special care has also been directed to the outside appearance of the building. The roof will be of red Imperial tile. The walks both to the entrances at the North and South wings, and encircling the entire court, will be of red tapestry brick. A careful landscape plan will be adhered to for the open court. The central entrance, at the back of the court is strictly colonial in style, large columns reaching from base of tapestry brick to the roof and supporting upper and lower porches.

A 16-foot driveway passes the rear and south side of the house reaching both Main street and Pynchard avenue and separating the main building at the rear from the transformed Ballard house, which was moved back to make room for the apartment construction. Back of the Ballard house and some distance in back is the former cell of the Ballard house, which is being made over for the home of the janitor.

The Ballard house has in the meantime been made into a two family house, and oak floors laid, the upstairs being seven rooms, and downstairs four. These apartments are nearly ready and one of them has been rented. The Ballard house will probably eventually be heated by the central plant of the apartment house, but in the meantime the original heater will be used.

November Club Holds Mock Town Meeting

A mock town meeting at which many affairs concerning the welfare of the town and its citizens were discussed with wit and spirit, afforded a most acceptable entertainment at the first meeting of the November club held on Monday of this week.

At one o'clock, the members gathered to enjoy a basket luncheon. Small tables were arranged to accommodate groups of six or eight, and the good things contained in the baskets were supplemented by coffee and ice cream, served by the directors.

Many favorable comments were heard on the transformation which has taken place in the assembly hall since the last meeting in May, a change made through the untiring efforts of the decorating committee, Mrs. Katharine Pinckney, Mrs. Joseph Rand and Miss Alice Jenkins.

The walls have been finished in a light wood brown, harmonizing with the wood-work and furnishing an admirable background for the beautiful pictures and works of art owned by the club. The windows have overhangings in golden brown and old blue, which are repeated in the curtains of the proscenium arch. Radical changes, including a well proportioned paneling of the back wall, have been made on the stage. The new stage curtain is the gift of the Dramatic department. The whole effect is restful, mellow and pleasing, and will add greatly to the pleasure of the members and their guests for whatever purpose they gather at the clubhouse.

A short business meeting was held, and the new president, Mrs. John C. Angus, was warmly greeted as she took the chair. After the routine business was transacted Mrs. Angus announced that the public school teachers of Andover had been invited to be the guests of the club at its public meetings throughout the year. She also spoke of the satisfaction which the members were already taking in the beauty of their newly decorated clubhouse and a vote of thanks was extended to the decorating committee.

Mrs. Horace H. Tyer was then chosen moderator of the town meeting, purporting to take place in 1930, and she led her fellow citizens through the intricacies of town business, in a manner which reflected favorably on the judgment of the voters, who chose her to succeed Moderator Ripley who had served the town for so many years.

Money was voted away freely as the deliberations of a finance committee. The sum of $120,000 was voted for a children's wing at the new hospital, originally given to the town by a wealthy Czechoslovakian, the husband of a prominent club member.

The beauties of the path along the river from Shawheen to Ballardvale were so graphically described that an additional thousand dollars was easily obtained for seats on benches.

An appropriation of $25,000 was voted for the purpose of making excavations on Main street in a search for Indian remains, the work to be carried on under the directions of Professor Warren K. Moorehead.

The garbage system was the subject of heated discussion and a sum of money was voted to establish an incinerating plant, the recommendation to establish a piggery on "manse green" meeting with violent objection.

The attempt to repeal the law obliging women to wear trousers in public places met with no favor, as in 1930 women were so accustomed to the comfort and convenience of this form of attire that they had no desire to return to the petticoat. And this, in spite of the fact pointed out by one speaker that the petticoat is a mark of intellectuality, being worn by those who have won a college degree, by magistrates on the bench and by eminent divines in the pulpit.

A motion to improve the lighting system, advocated by those who returned from Boston late at night on the spinner's special was lost, provisions being made that Morrissey's aeroplane take care of all such travelers, at the town's expense.

The advantages of an aerodrome on the land bounded by School, Abbot and Phillips streets were numerous, including the convenience to business men who commuted to Boston, to Abbot girls who wished to fly about to tea rooms, and to Phillips boys who desired to attend college football games in distant places and return the same night.

The interpolations of the "old gentleman" who was interested in "sidewalks" and rose to speak in season and out of season, created much merriment.

Among those who "spoke in meeting" were: Miss Anna W. Kuhn, Mrs. H. Gilbert Francke, Mrs. Donald Appleton, Mrs. Charles Thompson, Miss Bell J. Butterfield, Miss Mary Byers Smith, Mrs. John V. Holt, Miss Jane Carpenter, Mrs. Andrew W. Laurie, Mrs. Herbert W. Frazer, Miss Bessie P. Goldsmith, Miss Mary W. Bell, Mrs. Matthew S. McCurdy, Miss Nellie M. Mason, Miss Katharine R. Kelsey, Mrs. W. D. Walker, Miss Martha M. Howey, Miss Julia Twichell, Mrs. Markham W. Stackpole, Mrs. Philip L. Ripley, and Mrs. George L. Selden.

The art department will meet at the clubhouse on Monday, November 12, at three o'clock. The subject of the afternoon will be, "How to understand and enjoy pictures."

The music department will meet with Mrs. Charles D. Thompson on Monday afternoon, November 12, at half past three.

The literature department met with Miss Kate Swift on Wednesday afternoon, November 7.

The dramatic department will meet with Mrs. H. Winthrop Peirce, 4 Avon street, Friday afternoon, November 16, at three o'clock.

The civics department met at the November clubhouse this afternoon when Mrs. Claude U. Gilson gave the first of a series of ten talks on "Current History." The price of a course ticket is $3.00 to club members and $3.50 to the public. Single admissions 35 cents.

Sewed for Lawrence Hospital

The women of all the churches of Andover, regardless of creed, held one of the most successful sewing meetings for the Lawrence General hospital, in the parish house of Christ church Tuesday afternoon. The Andover committee of the local churches doing work for the hospital, was in charge, and Mrs. W. Dacre Walker of Christ church was general chairman.

Nearly 100 women were present, including many from the churches of Lawrence, North Andover and Methuen. A short business meeting was held and Mrs. Wilbur E. Rowell of Lawrence, president of the Ladies' Union Charitable society, under whose direction the hospital is managed, presided. Reports were made by Mrs. H. L. Sherman, chairman of the committee for district nursing; by Mrs. J. T. Lord, chairman of the committee on the training school for nurses; and by Mrs. Edward A. Freeman, chairman of the committee for sewing meetings. Mrs. Freeman reported that at the last sewing meeting held in North Andover, over 100 pieces were finished for the hospital. The list of committees for the various churches of Lawrence, Methuen and the Andovers was announced by the president.

A very interesting account was given by Miss Ida Washburne, matron of the Lawrence General hospital of the doings of the recent convention held in Milwaukee, by the American Hospital association, which was attended by superintendents and trustees of hospitals throughout the country. It is interesting to note that in the recent report, covering all hospitals in the country, the Lawrence General hospital was given a high rating for service and equipment.

The sewing meeting followed and a great amount of work was done, five sewing machines being in constant service all afternoon. The total number of pieces finished will be reported at the next meeting to be held with the Tower Hill church, Lawrence.

Afternoon tea was served with Mrs. W. Dacre Walker as hostess, assisted by Mrs. Albert E. Hulme, Mrs. Arthur T. Boutwell, Mrs. Thomas W. Platt of Christ church; Mrs. David S. Lindsay, Mrs. George A. Christie, Mrs. Joseph H. Blunt, Mrs. Harry A. Ramsdell of the Free church; Mrs. Colver J. Stone, Miss Susan M. Wilbur of the Baptist church, Mrs. Frederick E. Newton, Mrs. F. M. Benton of the Academy church.

Olga Sjöstrom Gives Piano Recital

Those who had a free evening hour for musical pleasure were thoroughly rewarded by the well-chosen program presented by Miss Olga Sjöstrom on Wednesday evening at the November clubhouse.

The talent which the young girl of a few years ago promised has become an assured possession. Her musical interpretation of Handel and Liszt, as well as of the modern composers, showed understanding, power and charm.

Among the audience, which was regrettably small, were visitors from Lawrence and North Andover.

The program was as follows:

Air and Variations	Handel
Sonata in B Minor	Liszt
No. 21 Op. 21 No. 1	Schumann
Mazurka	Chopin
Etude	Chopin
Waltz	Chopin
The Lark	Glinde-Belcher
The Dragon Fly	Palmgren
Trigoniana (Extrait des Soirs)	Florent Schmidt
Hungarian Rhapsody No. 6	Liszt

Trunk Sewer Nearing Completion

The Andover-Lawrence-trunk sewer from the filter beds in Shawheen Village to the Merrimack river is nearing completion and it is now expected by both engineers and contractors that Andover will be discharging its sewage into the Merrimack before the first of the year.

Work was started early in the summer and the favorable weather greatly aided the contractors. Construction has been in progress at the Lawrence end, the Andover end and in the middle of the sewer route and only a few connecting distances remain. The contractors are at present laying the big main sewer pipes between the Green schoolhouse, Lawrence, and the Riding Park and with these finished and a few places in town the work will be completed. The completion of the trunk line sewer will eliminate the filter beds in Shawheen Village, and open up a desirable residential district in South Lawrence, near the Riding park.

Lafalot Club Entertained

Tuesday evening at the home of the Misses Marion and Ruth Abbott on Main street, the Lafalot club of West Andover, was entertained. A report of the dance and supper held last Saturday night showed that the substantial sum of $100 was realized. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Hearing on McBride Garage

There was a hearing Monday evening before the Board of Selectmen on the petition of Frank McBride for a four-stall garage in the rear of his house on Elm street.

Adjoining property owners opposed the petition and after listening to both sides, the selectmen took the matter under advisement. They will make known their decision later.

Communication

Editor Townsman.

Dear Sir:

Mr. Moore's talk, illustrated with lantern slides before the Phillips Club Monday night, was so illuminating it was unfortunate that a larger number of our citizens did not have the opportunity of familiarizing themselves with the various kinds of memorials that are being erected throughout the world. Andover is proposing to put up a memorial of some sort and two important factors bearing on this were brought out in Mr. Moore's talk.

Shall the memorial be in the nature of some civic development or shall it be confined simply to a monumental structure?

If the town undertakes to go in for some elaborate plan, involving a charge upon its taxpayers, let the proposition be entirely freed from the suggestion that in the end the taxpayers will be benefited. Personally I think there are few property owners in this town who wish to see their holdings made more valuable through the agency of a memorial. Let us frankly state we propose to spend a lot of money, change the character of a section of our town in the hope that it shall be a seductive real estate proposition.

But if on the other hand, we desire to erect a testimonial of gratitude, commensurate with our part in the world's war, let us stick to this.

There are numerous plans and sites proposed. Andover is fortunate in having several places where a memorial could suitably be built.

I venture to offer a suggestion. At the entrance from South Main street and Hidden road is an open space with a ledge of rock jutting from the surface upon which a native boulder could be placed. On this boulder, two tablets in bronze could be set. The one toward the east, bearing the names of our young men who were in the service, and on the western tablet, facing the direction toward which their last thoughts must have turned, should fittingly be inscribed the names of those who never came back.

This monument would be at the approach of our town and would be an enduring landmark. Not a single citizen would cherish a protest against the cost of a structure of this kind and there would be no longer any suspicion that any one had gleaned any profit from it.

Yours

The Armistice Day Ideal

Announcements for the observance of Armistice Day on Sunday, November 11, remind us that five years have gone by since the cessation of hostilities—five years fraught with disillusionment and too often with regret. The time has now arrived, according to statements by the American Legion, for making Armistice Day an occasion for renewing our optimism and for rededicating ourselves to the establishment of a more hopeful future. That Armistice morning in 1918 seemed to most persons to be the dawning of a glorious era, when wrangling among nations should cease and war should be no more. Not all these hopes have been realized. The Millennium has not yet arrived; indeed it is likely to be postponed until it is too late for us to see it. There is, however, no reason for assuming an attitude of despair. It is the expressed wish of the State Commander of the Legion, General Edwards, that the meetings on Armistice Day should be especially concerned with a restatement of the ideals for which we fought, and a discussion of the best means of attaining them. In this aim we are surely united, as we were in 1917. The meeting on Sunday evening should show a hall packed to the doors. If we break faith with those who died for us, they will not sleep

"Though poppies blow
In Flanders fields."

It is appropriate that the opening of the annual national Red Cross rollcall should be set for Armistice Day. Foremost among the many effective war-time organizations, the Red Cross still goes on, accomplishing a work which, because it is non-political, non-sectarian, and entirely unselfish, must appeal to every man, woman, and child in the country. The Red Cross still maintains its traditional policy of alleviating suffering, in this or any other nation,—as the relief recently offered to Japan amply demonstrates. For this phase of its operations alone, it deserves support. But our local community is particularly indebted to the Red Cross for its part in making possible the work of the District Nurse in Andover and vicinity. It may not generally be known that the Andover Public Health Committee has now for two years been functioning in co-operation with the Red Cross, so that only one request for funds is now made annually instead of two. There must be few of our citizens who have not, at one time or another, been drawn in contact with Miss Campbell and the kind of service she performs. Modestly and quietly she has gone about, giving help where it is needed, and her aid has been sought by people in every section of the town. Subscribing to work like this is a very practical kind of philanthropy because its good results are so clearly apparent. This year, then, the Red Cross makes its appeal mainly on the ground that we have an imperative duty in raising the health standards of our community, and that this can be accomplished in no better way than by contributing to the maintenance of the District Nurse. The Townsman will gladly do what it can to make the campaign of 1923 a complete success.

Editorial Cinders

From earliest times, books have been considered prize possessions by those in whom has been developed a love for beauty in the printed word. There is a joy which comes from sharing a man's thoughts, if they are constructive thoughts, which cannot be equalled. There is a pleasure to be gained from sharing the emotions or thoughts of a group of characters in a piece of fiction which is not comparable to any other. Children, with their plastic minds, yielding to the impress of every new thought, are in a position to do themselves no end of harm by the books they read. Equally, they can supplement and add to their school education by their outside reading. Children's Book Week, while it adds one more to an already tremendous list of "weeks", focuses attention upon a very important phase of child development, one which should have the serious attention of every parent in Andover.

The death of ex-Governor Samuel W. McCall on last Sunday is a serious loss to the Commonwealth. A man who has served his state and country with a seriousness of purpose which has been equalled by few men in a similar position, Samuel W. McCall was a citizen of whom Massachusetts might well feel proud.

Presented with Clock on Birthday

A pleasant surprise was in store for Burton S. Flagg, president of the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance company, when he arrived at his office this morning. Knowing that November 9 was his birthday, his fellow officers and office associates remembered the day with the gift of a handsome office clock, the presentation being made in verse.

Fraternal Building Association Approves Plans

At a meeting of the Andover Fraternal building association, held Thursday night in the Musgrove Building, reports were given by all the officers, covering their affairs up to date.

The proposed articles of incorporation were read and discussed and a plan of the Lodge room floor, containing the main lodge room, a banquet hall, armory, reading room and kitchen was approved.

Another meeting will be held next Thursday night at 8 o'clock for further reports. In the absence of the president, James C. Souter presided.

Memorial Service on Armistice Day

John F. Moors of Boston, will be one of the speakers at the memorial services to be held in the Town hall on Sunday evening at 7.45 o'clock. Mr. Moors is a member of the Boston Finance commission, a fellow of Harvard University, and president of the Boston Welfare society, the largest charitable organization in Boston. It is probable that he will speak on the "World Court." The other speaker will be Prof. Charles H. Forbes of Andover.

J. Everett Collins will be the soloist and instrumental music will be furnished by a trio, composed of Mrs. W. Dudley Yates, piano; Miss Helen Eaton, cello; Henry P. Kelley, violin.

Award Heating Contract for Shaw-shen School

The heating and ventilating contract for the new Shawshen school was awarded to the new Shawshen school was awarded to the regular meeting of the School committee held in the Punchard building, Tuesday evening. The bid of the Lawrence firm was $24,915, which added to the building contract already awarded to L. H. Shattuck Inc., of Manchester, makes a total of $206,171.

A sub-contract for the plumbing was awarded to the W. H. Welch company some time ago.

Mr. Whittaker of Burkall and Company of Boston, was present at the meeting Tuesday night and explained the system of heating and ventilation most practical in the new school.

Formal action was taken on the resignation of Miss Elizabeth Hill of the Bradlee school, and Mrs. Carl Gahan was appointed to act as substitute. Mrs. Gahan has been teaching the school for several weeks.

It was voted to leave the question of water at the North school in the hands of the building and grounds committee.

The financial account for the month follows:

Donation Day at Home for Aged

The Andover Home for Aged People will be open for inspection on Wednesday, November 14—Donation Day.

It is hoped that many persons will avail themselves of the opportunity to visit the home. Donations of money, and supplies, such as dry groceries, canned goods, potatoes or other vegetables will be received during the day.

Baptist Roll Call

One hundred and twenty-five members of the Baptist church gathered on Wednesday evening to enjoy an excellent supper followed by the annual roll call and an entertainment.

The tables were decorated with fruit and evergreen and the following menu was served: potted beef with gravy, mashed potatoes, peas, rolls, cranberry sauce, squash, lemon and custard pies, and coffee.

The members of the supper committee were William Caldwell, Mrs. Henry Albers, Mr. and Mrs. John Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Billington and Miss Effie Ross. They were assisted in serving by the young ladies of Mrs. Clara Norton's Sunday-school class: Beatrice Stevens, Edna Albers, Irene Curtin, Annie Pendleton, Gertrude Bernsten and Dora Dennison.

During the supper music was rendered by an orchestra composed of Malcolm Lundgren, piano; Seldon Billington, violin; Alfred Kenyon, saxophone.

After the company had adjourned to the auditorium, the evening's exercises were opened by the reading of scripture and prayer offered by Rev. W. G. Huber, the new pastor of the Baptist church in Reading. Mr. Huber is a friend and classmate of Rev. C. Norman Bartlett and was a special guest of the evening.

The roll was called by John Moore, clerk of the church, and the members responded verbally, and also with money contributions. Many who were unable to be present sent messages, and gifts. The thank offering amounted to over one hundred dollars. The oldest member of the church is Miss Lucy Burrill and its youngest member is Sarah Elizabeth Wills.

A telegram of sympathy was sent to a fellow-member, Harold Livingstone, who is ill at the Barre sanitarium.

An interesting and helpful address was given by Dr. Norcross, pastor of the Baptist church of Arlington. Dr. Norcross' suggestions for a successful year were for the fullest cooperation between the members of the congregation and the pastor, for a prayerful church, and for a thankful church. He said that every man, woman and child in the parish should have something definite to do and should strive to carry out the suggestions of their leader. One method of helping their pastor which he mentioned was the establishment of a pension fund.

Dr. Norcross is a strong believer in prayer, not in the long prayers of the Pharisees, but in the short, earnest, prayer which springs from the heart. An art to be cultivated is that of thankfulness, thankfulness for the ordinary gifts of life as well as for God's unspeakable gift.

The address of Dr. Norcross was enlivened with stories and anecdotes which not only entertained his hearers but were carefully chosen to illustrate the point of his remarks.

Readings, varying from grave to gay were given by Miss Vernon MacDougall of Boston. Her selections were "Amanda's Wedding," "The Downhill Road," and van Dyke's "Legend of Service." Miss MacDougall generously responded to several eulogies.

Joint Recital by Faculty of Abbot Music Department

Abbot Academy has the pleasure of announcing the first recital of its music faculty; Mrs. Ruth Thayer Burnham, contralto, Miss Kate Friskin, pianist, Miss Marie Nichols, violinist, and Walter Edward Howe, organist. The concert is scheduled for Tuesday night, November 13, at 8.00 o'clock, in Davis Hall. The people of Andover are cordially invited to the recital. No admission will be charged.

Miss Friskin will play Gollwitzer's Cake-walk, Little Shepherd, and Dolly's Serenade of Debussy; Preludes in G major, and B flat major of Rachmaninoff.

Mr. Howe will play a cycle of four Sea pieces by Stoughton, and Edward Elgar's Pomp and Circumstance March No. 2.

Successful Week at Ford Sales Room

A. A. Roesch, local Ford agent, reports a busy week at the salesroom in the Musgrove building. The place is transformed by a generous use of hunting, and the visitors have been entertained every evening with music.

The rooms were packed to capacity on Wednesday evening when moving pictures were shown of the beginning of the Ford industry, the present factory and the method of assembling motors, chassis and bodies, enabling the company to put out 7,000 cars a day.

The 1924 models of the Ford touring car, four-door sedan, runabout and coupe, were shown as well as a cut away Ford motor, which enabled one to see every detail of the working of the engine.

Remarkable Program to Be Given at Colonial Theatre

The Committee for the observance of Children's Book Week, through the kindness and cooperation of Mr. Resnik, has arranged for an exceptionally good programme to be given at the Colonial Theatre on Thursday, November 15th. Two thoroughly worthwhile films will be presented: the "Prince and the Pauper," based upon Mark Twain's famous story, and "Columbus," the first of the series of historical films being staged under the direction of Yale University. These films, based upon the "Chronicles of American History," represent a new departure in the production of motion pictures, which is attracting the attention of educators all over the United States. The series, of which but two have as yet been released, represent the high lights in our national development. Andover is indeed fortunate to have so soon an opportunity of seeing the first of these really remarkable motion pictures. Tickets will soon be on sale, fifteen cents for children, thirty cents for adults.

The performance on Thursday will be continuous from 2:15 to 10:00 o'clock. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. O. P. Keith, Park street, or Mrs. Fred Collins, Summer street; adults, thirty cents; children, fifteen cents.

Punchard Meets Exeter Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon on the local Playstead, at 2:30 o'clock, Punchard High and Exeter High play their annual game of football.

From the season's record it appears that the local boys have a stronger team and are favorites. Punchard has lost only one game this year and only 31 points have been scored against them while they have succeeded in piling up 95 points against their opponents.

Exeter has not been as fortunate this year as usual and its record is not as good. It has made 89 points against its opponents '90. Records of early season games are often shattered, however, in the result of this game, as each team is more anxious for this game than any other of the season.

Coach Lovely has worked wonders with the Punchard team and deserves the united support of the town in the game tomorrow. Being handicapped with a limited number of boys to pick from, he has worked hard with the material he had and has developed one of the best teams in the history of the school. Although light, the team is full of pep all the time, and is very fast. In Captain Pratt, the team has a natural leader. He is very popular, and a fine player. He fills the halfback position with credit and has helped in large degree to give Punchard a winning team. Exeter's captain is Michael O'Leary, who has been on the team for two previous years. He is a hard player and very valuable to the team.

Punchard and Exeter have been meeting since 1907. During these years, Punchard has won 9 games and Exeter has won 5. One game was tied, neither side scoring.

The records follow:
1907—Punchard 9, Exeter 6.
1908—Punchard 0, Exeter 0.
1909—Punchard 10, Punchard 0.
1910—Punchard 10, Exeter 3.
1911—Punchard 8, Exeter 0.
1912—Exeter 3, Punchard 0.
1913—Exeter 40, Punchard 0.
1914—Punchard 27, Exeter 0.
1915—Punchard 13, Exeter 2.
1916—Punchard 12, Exeter 0.
1917—Punchard 48, Exeter 0.
1918—No game.
1919—Punchard 33, Exeter 0.
1920—Exeter 41, Punchard 0.
1921—Exeter 34, Punchard 3.
1922—Punchard 24, Exeter 0.
Exeter's record for the season is:

Newburyport 12, Exeter 0.
Exeter 40, Dover High 0.
Exeter 20, Rochester High 0.
Aresbury, Mass. High 40, Exeter 6.

Miss Mary Bell will conduct the devotional part of the program.

Tea will be served at the close of the meeting under the direction of the committee.

Mrs. John V. Holt will act as hostess for the meeting.

bruises, lies hovering between life and death at the Lawrence General hospital, as the result of being struck down by an automobile late last evening.

Miss Phillips had been calling on friends and had crossed North Main street near Harding to post a letter and was again crossing the street to take a car to return to her home when an automobile bore down upon her.

The driver of the machine did not stop and made his escape under the cover of darkness. One person saw the accident and a clue to the driver is being followed up by the police. The State police will assist in the search and every effort will be made by Miss Phillips' friends to locate the guilty man.

H. Winthrop Peirce to Hold Exhibition

H. Winthrop Peirce will hold an exhibition of paintings both in oil and water color, at 4 Avon street, Andover, on the afternoon of Monday and Tuesday, between the hours of one o'clock and five o'clock, to which the public is invited.

The subjects are varied and interesting, and interpreted with a true artist's skill. A special interest attaches to two of the pictures made in Andover gardens. "The Vintage" shows the lovely garden of Mrs. Ashley Watson on High street, with all the wealth of color found in ripening grapes and garden bloom, and the gay little garden of Miss Emma Lincoln on Summer street, will be seen with new eyes after one has seen Mr. Peirce's painting.

An especially interesting study is that of the Shaw Memorial, by moonlight, with the lights of Tremont street glimmering through the shadowy elms. An entirely different moonlight scene is one at Wilton, N. H., showing the river and distant mountains. The depth of shadow and the shimmer of moonlight on the water is skillfully portrayed in dull blues and grays but without any suggestion of coldness.

In happy contrast to this, is "The Woodroad," a steep little path up the hill filled with sunshine, the slopes of the grassy banks and wooded slopes apparently filled with the changing colors of the high-tide of summer. A group of children, blueberrying, add interest to the scene without disturbing its quiet charm.

"Content Brook," a clear stream running through a meadow bordered by woods in autumn dress, is another picture filled with the peace to be found in communing with nature.

The corner of a city street, the shoppers and office workers homeward bound, the sunset glow reflected from the windows of a nearby church, is called "The Day's End." The fountain of the Medici in the Luxembourg gardens at Paris, is an interesting study contrasting the calm, quiet beauty of the fountain with the gaiety and bustle of the city suggested by the lights of the night life glimpsed through the colonnades.

Among the other pictures too numerous to mention individually are several painted this summer at Remond.

Those who attend the exhibition early in the afternoon will see the pictures to the best advantage.

Mothers' Club to Help Good Book Week

At the regular meeting of the Andover Mothers' club held Wednesday afternoon at the Punchard school with Mrs. Frank M. Foster presiding, it was voted to donate the sum of $25 to be used by Superintendent Sanborn to advance "Children's Book Week." Fifteen dollars was also voted for the milk fund.

Mrs. Lamb and Mrs. McGowan of Lawrence and Mrs. James J. Feeney of Andover gave reports of the recent inspiring convention of the Parent-Teacher association held in Springfield.

The work of the League of Women Voters which is about to launch a membership drive was presented by Mrs. Herbert Frazer. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Aubrey Polgreen, Mrs. Albert Darling and Mrs. William Brown.

Commercial Poultrymen Planning Organization

County Agent Tomlinson, who has been working in close cooperation with many of the leading poultrymen in Essex County, has been so impressed with the growth of this industry in the county that he is giving every assistance possible in promoting an association which will be primarily for the benefit and interest of the commercial poultrymen.

The matter of organizing was first presented to the poultrymen at the time of the summer tour held July 18th. At that time a favorable vote was taken, and the chairman, Mr. Tomlinson, was asked to name a committee of poultrymen to meet and draw up a set of by-laws to present to the poultrymen of the county.

The committee consisting of B. Tomlinson, Hathorne, chairman; Ernest Anderson, Ballardvale; H. A. Moulton, Topsfield; Walter Hulbert, Ipswich; Robert B. Parkhurst, Boxford, and George Withers, Ward Hill, are now ready to report to a gathering of poultrymen.

In order to get a good attendance, a program is being prepared for a "Poultry Day" to be held at the Essex County Agricultural School, Thursday, November 22nd.

All poultrymen in the county are urged to reserve this date and attend this meeting, the details of which will be announced in a few days.

Junior Helpers Present Play

"Alice Through the Postal Card," a Japanese missionary play, was given in the Congregational church vestry on Saturday afternoon by the children of the Junior Helpers' society under the direction of Miss Emily Tracy, organizer of the Junior Helpers' society.

The beautiful costumes worn by the children and the effective stage settings all showed to what length Miss Tracy had extended her efforts and the beauty of it all was certainly appreciated by the large gatherings who witnessed the performance.

The story was of a little American girl whose lack of interest in the Japanese children allows her to send a postal card with nothing but her name "Alice" on the card. Before she mails the card, however, she expresses a wish that she might visit Japan.

Immediately a fairy appears who tells Alice she may go to Japan through the magic postal card door. Her experiences in Japan follow. She meets her Japanese doll, the fan, napkins, lantern and matting all beautiful things which she never before realized all came from Japan. Even the chrysanthemum seed was brought to this country from Japan.

In the end Alice awakens and finds it was all a dream but she has seen enough so that she decides she will add more to her postal card and to make it more friendly writes "with love, Alice."

At the close of the entertainment Japanese tea and rice cakes were served to the guests by the four ladies in waiting, Alice Ward, Frances Benson, Eleanor Ward and Marjorie Ormsby.

It has been requested that the play be given again in the Community room where the facilities would show the play to better advantage and it is hoped that in the near future all who missed the performance Saturday will have the opportunity of seeing it.

Talk No. 5

A Word About Enamels

We have tried in our former "Talks" to give you the unvarnished truth about varnishes. Summed up, these talks show that it is not what is advertised or said or claimed that make a varnish durable, but that its wearing quality depends on what the varnish is made of and the knowledge and experience used in manufacturing it.

The same general truths hold good in regard to ENAMELS.

At the beginning of the last century the Colonial style of decoration demanded White Enamels. It was natural that in conjunction with our varnishes we developed a treatment of oils that for a period spanning five generations has not been excelled for the production of Enamels.

The standard in those early days was higher than the commercial standard of today, but in our Enamels, as well as our Varnishes, we have not deviated from the principles that have led us to be spoken of as "The house that reputation built and whose reputation is your guarantee."

Punchard in Tie with Winchester

Saturday afternoon Punchard school held the heavy Winchester team to a scoreless tie on the Winchester grounds. Each team had an opportunity to score several times with field goals but failed. Souter vainly attempted a goal from placement and field goals also failed. Adams made the longest run at the beginning of the first period for twenty-five yards. Both teams tried numerous forward passes but failed to complete them. Dyer played part of the game on the line owing to an injured knee. Soderberg and Stevenson played fine games on the line. Steve making several fine tackles and opened up holes for the backs to plow through. Soderberg recovered fumbles twice when Mears intercepted a forward pass. Both teams fumbled the ball several times. During the game Punchard received several penalties, and Winchester was penalized for slugging.

For Winchester, Fitzgerald did most of the ground gaining through the center of the line. Winchester had a little better of the air game and made two good gains in this manner.

Mrs. Louisa Valentine, aged 52 years, wife of Charles Valentine of 22 Brechin terrace, was discharged from the Lawrence General hospital Sunday noon, following an illness which resulted according to the hospital authorities when she accidentally drank some iodine at her home early Sunday morning. Only a small portion of the iodine entered her stomach and nothing serious resulted.

Farmerette Minstrel Show

A jitney social and entertainment held under the direction of Indian Ridge Rebekah lodge Monday evening furnished much enjoyment for a large gathering of people. The affair was held after the regular meeting of the lodge, and was in charge of the social committee. The attractive goodies that could be bought for a "jitney" were doughnuts, sandwiches, cookies, squash pie, apple pie, fudge and other candy, ice cream cones and coffee.

The entertainment was in charge of the farmerettes of the lodge, and they were a seedy looking group. A livelier bunch of hicks could not be imagined, and they danced, and sang with great abandon. The songs were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Kerr Sparks. The program of tunes and jokes follows:

School Days
Down by the Old Apple Tree
When Will the Sun Shine for Me
Oh, Gee, Oh Gosh
Mellow Moon

So's — Wonderful Mother of Mine Susan Bissett
End song — Hoochie Blues Jean MacLeish
Lance May Valentine
Solo — The Girl That Men Forget Sadie MacLeish Solo — The Old Fashioned Town Lily Dunbar Duet — Old Man Donald
Solo — Wonderful One Jessie Haddon
End song — Yes, We Have No Bananas May Valentine

Dance — Highland Fling May Valentine
Closing chorus
Kentucky Blues
Annabelle
Wooden Soldiers
Last Night on the Back Porch
Rebekah's March

The two ends in the person of Jean MacLeish and Jessie Haddon were the life of the party. Their antics made one continual laugh throughout the evening, as they were dressed in the height of some fashion or other, and had a lot of good jokes on the different members of the lodge. The members of the chorus were: Mrs. Donald Laurie, Sadie MacLeish, Etta Brown, Susan Bissett, Alice Elliott, Martha Moore, Lily Dunbar, Grace Lake.

The very efficient interlocutor was Miss Anne Ness, who made things hum in her old cornfield. The ends came in on scooters and startled the audience, to their very great satisfaction.

The committee in charge of the affair comprised: Mrs. Charlotte Hill, chairman; Mrs. Frank Valentine, Mrs. William Faulkner and Mrs. Carl Elander.

Community Christmas Service

The annual Community Christmas service will be held on Sunday evening, December 23, under the auspices of the Baptist church. The committee is arranging a very interesting program based upon the Life of Christ. Beautiful reproductions of Hoffman's pictures will be shown. The service will be further enriched by selections by the Orpheus Male Quartet, and readings appropriate to the occasion. Plans are progressing very encouragingly.

Suggestions for a Child's Library

Every year hundreds of books for children are issued, and there are numbers of good lists, compiled by experts, to serve as guides in the wise choice of books for children. Certain authors, certain books, are a necessity of any well-selected library for a child. These fundamental purchases, in beautiful editions, are indeed desirable for those who can pay the price.

The following annotated list, necessarily brief and non-inclusive, is confined to some of the best 1923 juvenile books, and to the noting of a few inexpensive editions, which show that it is perfectly possible to buy at reasonable prices, some of the best books ever written for children.

The librarian at the Memorial Hall will gladly give information about other editions, or other titles, and will furnish all data necessary for the ordering of any book.

SOME OF THE GOOD 1923 BOOKS FOR CHILDREN

ABBOTT, JACOB. FRANCONIA STORIES, ed. by Margaret Armstrong. Putnam. $2.00. Keeps the spirit and much of the atmosphere of the old stories, and will appeal to the child who would never read the original ten volumes.

BESTON. STARLIGHT WONDER BOOK. Houghton $3.00.

Modern fairy tales, full of fanciful imagination and humor. Illustrations by Maurice Day, charming and interesting.

BUNYAN, JOHN. PILGRIM'S PROGRESS, abridged by E. F. Smith. Atlantic Monthly Press. $1.50.

Adapted for children, with the controversial points and long theological arguments omitted, but retaining the language and spirit of Bunyan. Will be enjoyed by children who would find the original classic a bore.

GAYLORD. LITTLE SEAFOLK. Little $1.50.

Many of the things which make the seashore so fascinating have their secrets revealed in this delightful book, written for boys and girls from 8 to 13.

HAWES. THE DARK FRIGATE. Atlantic Monthly Press. $2.00.

No author since Stevenson has written such excellent sea and pirate stories. This tale, with the previous ones, "The Mutineers," and "The Great Quest," deserve to be classed with "Treasure Island." Will be enjoyed by both boys and men.

HAWES. TRAVELER'S LETTERS TO BOYS AND GIRLS. Macmillan $2.25.

A well-known librarian shares her ur-upon travel experiences with the children.

HUNT, ED. LADY GREEN SATIN AND HER MAID ROSETTE. Macmillan $2.00.

An English rendering of a famous French story for children, of two white mice and their small exhibitor. Quaint, pleasant, a little Frenchified.

KUMMER. FIRST DAYS OF KNOWLEDGE. Doran $2.00.

Much worthwhile information about the first inventions devised by man, the sun-dial, the water-clock, the beginnings of writing, of numbering, of weaving, etc.

FIRST DAYS OF MAN. Doran $2.00.

The author of these books has a rare gift in presenting a subject usually considered beyond a child's understanding. A bright child of six or seven would enjoy listening to this and his father would enjoy reading it.

LOTTING. DOCTOR DOLITTLE'S POSTOFFICE. Stokes $2.50.

A truly charming story, with the same delightful humor that characterized his first book, and illustrated in the same happy way. Will be enjoyed by children and grown people alike. One of the outstanding books of the season. Other volumes are "Story of Doctor Dolittle," cheaper ed. Stokes $1.50; "Voyages of Doctor Dolittle," Stokes $2.50. PERKINS. FILIPINO TWINS. Houghton $1.75.

Latest addition to the "Twin Series," a thoroughly excellent series of books for children. Many of them are obtainable in a school edition at $3.88.

Other titles are Dutch Twins, Japanese, Cave, Spartan, French, Belgian, Swiss, Mexican, Italian, Irish.

PHILLIPS. A STORY OF NANCY HANKS. Houghton $1.50.

The story of Lincoln's mother from her little girlhood in Virginia to the historic experience in Kentucky, written in a pleasing manner for young children.

ROOSEVELT, THEODORE. LETTERS TO HIS CHILDREN. Cheaper ed. Scribner, $1.00.

SPYRI. VINI. Lippincott $1.50.

The happy background of Swiss life and the doings of the children as they tend the cows in the Alpine pastures is the setting for an attractive story of a boy with great musical talent. By the author of that juvenile classic, "Heidi."

SUSANNA'S AUCTION. Illustrated by Boutet de Monvel. Macmillan's Little Library $1.00.

An original and amusing story of the naughtiness of little French Susanna and of the sorry plight to which her obstinacy brought her. The black and white illustrations tell the story as much as the text.

TAPAN. ELLA, A LITTLE SCHOOL-GIRL OF THE SIXTIES. Houghton $1.75.

The experiences of a quaint little old-fashioned girl in the seminary where her mother teaches.

ZWILGMEYER. FOUR COUSINS. Lothrop $1.75.

The Norwegian grandmother summons a child from the families of each of her four daughters, for a visit of a year, Maren Anne and Anniken from different sections of Norway, Ebba from Stockholm, and little Anniken from South Germany. Interesting not only as a story, but as a picture of Norwegian home life. Other worthwhile books by this author are "Adventures of Inger Johanne," Lothrop $1.75, and "Johnny Blossom," Pilgrim Press, $1.50.

SOME GOOD BOY SCOUT STORIES

EATON. BOY SCOUTS OF BERKSHIRE. Four volumes in series. Wilder $1.75 each.

HEYLIGER. DON STRONG OF THE WOLF PATROL. Two volumes. Grosset $1.00 each.

WOMEN'S CLUB MEETING

President of State Federation Tells How to Be a Good Club Member and Home-Maker.

A very large number were present at the monthly meeting of the Shawsheen Village Women's club on Monday evening in Balmoral hall.

The president, Mrs. George H. Winslow, announced that Mrs. James C. Ramsey had received permission from the National Chapter in Washington, D. C., to organize a Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution in Shawsheen Village, and all those who are interested in the formation should communicate with Mrs. Ramsey.

Mrs. Louis Holt was appointed to take charge of a class in Italian cutwork. All members are invited to join this class and those desiring to do so should get in touch with Mrs. Holt. If enough members are interested a reed class will be formed, and after Christmas plans will be made for the formation of classes.

A state meeting will be held at Wellesley, November 10, and anyone who would like to attend should notify Mrs. Winslow.

Following the business meeting Miss Marion T. Abbott entertained at the piano and her various selections were heartily received by those present. Her program was:
Chopin—Waltz Op. 34, No. 1; MacDowell—
"Hexentanz"; and the Burlesque Dance.

Mrs. Walter Perhan, 10th District Director of the State Federation was the guest of the club and Mrs. Grace M. Poole, President of the State Federation, was the speaker of the evening. Mrs. Poole's subject was "Just Suppose," which had aroused a great deal of curiosity as to what the meaning of it could be. She explained that children were not the only ones who played the game of "Just Suppose" but grown-ups were playing it every day of their life. Mrs. Poole told of how she had been taught the value of a home as a child and the necessity of a girl knowing the things essential for making a home.

"Mothers today are not teaching their daughters to love a home, but are filling their heads with the idea that housework is drudgery," said Mrs. Poole. "If we are to continue to be a powerful nation we must have clean, well-ordered homes and young girls must be taught the duties connected with the home."

Mrs. Poole spoke of club work and told how to be a good club member. It is her belief that women should exercise the privilege given to them of voting. She proved her self a very interesting speaker with enough humor to put her subject across and her audience were delighted with her.

Mrs. Cornelius A. Wood, Mrs. Douglas Donald and Mrs. J. S. Livingstone, were a committee from the League of Women Voters of Andover who distributed pamphlets in the interests of the drive that the League is making for new members.

After the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses who were: Mrs.
George Dunnells, chairman, Miss Ruth Dunnells, Mrs. Sewell N. Dunton, Mrs.
Albert W. Ennis, Dr. Agnes Fraser, Mrs.
James Fraser, Mrs. Charles Frederickson,
Mrs. Walter T. E. Freiwald, Mrs. W. A.
Gabeler, Mrs. G. L. Gahm, Mrs. G. Howard
Gerrish, Mrs. James Gillen.

Local Girl Wins Contest

Miss Edith Bredbury of York street, won second place in the Salesmanship contest at the Lawrence Commercial school and was awarded $50. She was one of 100 contestants taking the examination and her many friends both in Lawrence and Shawsheen Village are pleased to hear of her success.

Miss Bredbury is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bredbury, Mr. Bredbury being the agent of the Shawsheen Mills.

Boy Scout Meeting

The weekly meeting of the Shawsheen Boy Scouts was held on Friday evening, in the Boy's club on Haverhill street.
Scoutmaster Norman Allen was in charge.
Military drill was held, after which games were played.

To Hold Saturday Night Dances at Shawsheen Restaurant

Manager Joseph J. DeAcutis of the Shaw-sheen Manor and Restaurant announces a series of Saturday night dances at the Shawsheen restaurant on Haverhill street, commencing Saturday night, November 10, and continuing every Saturday night until further notice.

These dances were a great success last winter as they attracted a large group of Shawsheen Village and Andover residents, many of whom during the summer had enjoyed the outdoor dancing garden at the Balmoral Spa.

The check dancing system, which proved so popular last season, will be followed this year and an admission charged which includes several dances.

The condition of the roads and particularly the approaches to the restaurant barred many patrons from these enjoyable dances last season, but as all the roads are now in perfect condition and as a large garage adjoins the restaurant, autoists and others will have no difficulty in reaching it and will find parking and storage conditions excellent.

For the opening night a ten-piece orchestra has been engaged and the restaurant especially decorated. "A large number of expected but a dancing space ample for 400 couples insures the comfort and enjoyment of every guest."

Struck by Street Car

Edward Robinson of 11 Methuen street, Lawrence, an employee of the Shawsheen garage on Main street, was struck by an electric car Tuesday noon.

According to the Andover police, Robinson was standing on the curb and hailed a passing automobile which was going in the direction of Lawrence. He attempted to cross in front of the approaching electric car and was thrown to the pavement when he misjudged the distance.

After he had been taken to his home Dr.
Joseph F. Walsh, who made an examination, said that he had received body bruises and possibly internal injuries.

S. D. G. Meeting

The weekly meeting of the S. D. G. club of Shawsheen Village was held at the home of Mrs. Harry M. Hill, Carisbrook street, Wednesday afternoon. The afternoon was spent in sewing for the hostess after which luncheon was served.

Those present were: Mrs. Frederick W.
Blanchard, Mrs. Luther Watson, Mrs.
Arthur Ryder, Mrs. Clarence W. Coolidge and Mrs. Harry M. Hill.

STOREHOUSE BURNED

Stubborn Fire in Lumber Burns All Day.
Firemen Hampered by Low Water Pressure.

The storehouse of the Shawsheen Brush factory and Shawsheen Wood-working department was badly burned last Saturday morning. The fire was discovered about 6 o'clock by Alfred Brunette, a watchman at the plant. The Andover department on arriving at the scene summoned help from Lawrence, and the Shawsheen mill firemen assisted in fighting the blaze. The firemen were greatly hampered by the low water pressure, the motor pumps of both the Andover and Lawrence departments being able to operate only on about one-third of their capacity.

At 10.30 the motor pumps shut down and the high pressure pumps in the Shawsheen Power House were put into operation. The increased pressure was remarkable and inside of 15 minutes the blaze was surrounded on all sides by powerful streams.

For a time the flames threatened to spread from the storehouse to adjacent factory buildings and houses but the fine work of the firemen confined the blaze to the storehouse where it originated and by 8.30 all danger of the flames spreading to other buildings had passed. However, the fire burned all day Saturday, and it was necessary to keep firemen on the job all during the night.

The blaze originated in the lower part of the storehouse near the end of the building and burned upward toward the roof. The storehouse was a wooden frame building and the flames burned through the walls and roof, exposing the contents of the building.

The Lawrence fire department apparatus assisting in fighting the fire returned to the city shortly after 10.30 p.m. It was the belief of the Andover fire chief that the fire was sufficiently under control at that time to warrant their leaving.

The lumber was pulled down and spread out and the hose pulled onto it. Firemen were kept on the scene until Sunday noon.

Classes Changed to Balmoral Hall

The first-grade classes now being held in the Post-office hall will be removed to Balmoral hall on Monday, November 19.
This is made necessary by the fact that the two halls in the Post-office building are being used into offices to accommodate the increasing demand for office space.

Join Christ Church Choir

Residents of Shawsheen, particularly the new residents, are invited to become members of Christ church choir. There is need of good voices, not only for those of men and boys, but also of women.

By accepting this invitation, newcomers will form new and pleasant friendships as well as rendering a real service to the community.

Gordon S. Brown, organist and choirmaster at Christ church, was formerly organist at Hereford cathedral and the excellent training given will be of great value to those who assist in the music at Christ church.

Gift to England's Queen

Presentation to the Queen of England, of a fabric made in an American mill has elicited a gracious letter of thanks from her Majesty, who said that the cloth would be utilized. The cloth was the Buroline fabric made by the women's wear department of the American Woolen Company, and was produced in a mill where there are a large number of Scottish and Canadian workers, who sent it as a tribute to the Queen. A fabric of the same weave was presented to Mrs. Harding during the lifetime of her husband, and was fashioned into a wrap.

The matter of presentation of the cloth by the mill employees to the Queen, it is understood, was first taken up with the British Embassy here. Action was referred to the Trade Commissioner. He was returning to London and consented to take the cloth with him. A few weeks elapsed and, recently the parchment letter of the Queen was received in which she expressed her gratification at the gift.
